1st November 2016

Dear parents and carers

Next week marks the beginning of SHINE week in school.

Each day we will blog about what is happening in school – please do take a look. The blog can be accessed via the school website, the Twitter feed (@StMClitherow) or directly at www.clitherowspeaks.wordpress.com. We have lots of exciting and creative things planned for this week.

During this week we will be spending time focusing on cultural identity, diversity, uniqueness and the beautifully rich tapestry that is woven when we all come together. Working together, through our uniqueness, Christ's bright light SHINES out to all of the world. This week supports our children in being the brightest light that they can be, understanding their cultural heritage, appreciating the diversity of our community and celebrating their beautiful uniqueness.

On the final day of this special week, Friday 11th November, we plan to have an 'open hour' where you will be very welcome to join with your children in some activities in the classroom to celebrate their learning with them. Prior to this, just after drop off, there will be an opportunity to have a coffee together in the hall, perhaps sharing something of your cultural heritage with other parents. You might want to bring along something to talk about or share with other parents. You should soon receive a personal invitation from your child to this event.

If you or your children would like to come in wearing national costume for this day, you would be most welcome.

Coffee will be available from 8.45am in the hall and the classrooms will be open from 9.10 – 10.10am. Please do join us if you can!

Yours sincerely
